

Reservists and Guardsmen are being called upon to serve their country more than ever before. The sacrifices they make are unique and pose great challenges to their families and employers back home. That is why I am introducing legislation to ease the hardships of our reserve forces. The Americans in Uniform Act of 2005 will increase reservist pay, improve health care benefits, enhance reserve training and provide incentives for civilian employers to stand behind their reservists.